A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO EVERY ONE!

CHRISTMAS AT MILL VILLAGES

Santa Has Been Busy During Week.

More Than a Thousand Turkeys Were Distributed Among Operatives—Gifts For Graded and Sunday Schools—The Superintendents and Overseers Remembered As Were Clerks in Stores—Gift to Mr. Phoenix.

The closing days of 1910 will ever be remembered by the operatives of the great cotton mills north of the city. Regardless of the general depression prevailing in most cotton mill settlements the holiday spirit prevailed everywhere. These mills have been running full time and every one is happy. From Monday morning, when the liberality of the Messrs. Cone and Sternberger, started the distribution of over 1000 turkeys until Saturday night, old St. Nicholas has been conducting a continuous performance.

Monday 401 turkeys were presented to the families at White Oak mills, Tuesday 193 at Revolution, Wednesday over 400 at Proximity. These turkeys were gathered throughout North Carolina and considering the extreme scarcity of turkeys the job was a big one. But every family will have Christmas turkey this year.

Wednesday the three graded schools gave their annual Christmas entertainment and after rendering a splendid program the management of the cotton mills presented to each scholar a box containing candy, raisins and nuts. Also to each boy and girl a toy. To each teacher a valuable gift was made.

Thursday the mills closed for the holidays and Santa Claus came upon the scene loaded down with presents. In the rush that followed the following were noted:

At White Oak Mills.

Mr. R. G. Campbell, general superintendent of all the mills, received from the overseers of White Oak, alligator traveling bag. Mr. Thomas Gardner, superintendent of White Oak, gold handle umbrella, suitably engraved.

Mr. Horace Pennington, overseer of weaving department, set Rogers silverware.

Mr. H. A. Barnes, overseer slashing and beamingfi four large rugs.

Mr. J. W. Holt, overseer carding and spinning, $15 in gold.

Mr. U. S. Greer, chief engineer, gold pocket knife.

K. V. Thigpen, overseer finishing department, fountain pen.

Mr. Z. Noah, boss carpenter, Stetson hat and pair gloves.

All these presents were made with appropriate speeches and eloquent responses. The overseers in return gave a general treat consisting of fruits, nuts and candy. The best of feeling prevailed and good cheer was on every hand.

At Proximity Mills.

Mr. R. G. Campbell, general superintendent, handsome umbrella.

James Bangle, superintendent, sterling silver handle umbrella, hunting coat and other hunting accessories.

Mr. Thomas Bangle, overseer spinning department, emblematic watch charm, combining Masonic and Odd Fellow fraternities. Topaz ring.

Mr. Robert H. Inman, overseer carding, traveling bag.

S. R. Hunter, overseer of beaming and slashing, traveling bag.

S. E. Wiley, assistant overseer beaming and slashing, Stetson hat.

At the Stores.

Last night after closing the employees of the four mill stores met and the following presents were distributed. Each manager, gold cuff buttons; each clerk, watch fob; each cashier, gold locket; and each driver, pair fur gloves and hat.

These gifts were made by the manager of each store who thanked his force for their faithful and efficient services rendered through the greatest holiday trade these stores ever experienced. To the untiring efforts of the small army of clerks more than any other one thing was given the credit of the successful holiday trade.

The employees of the four mill stores last night presented Mr. John P. Phoenix, president of the stores, with a handsome Masonic charm, containing 5 diamonds and 7 rubies. The charm is emblematic of the Blue Lodge, Royal Arch, Red Cross and Knight Templar.

At the Churches and Sunday Schools.

Baptist Church distributed candy and fruits Thursday night.

Walnut Street Methodist church gave usual treat Thursday night.

White Oak Methodist gave their annual Christmas treat and entertainment last night, and the White Oak Baptist church Friday night.

St. Paul M. P. church at White Oak gave their treat Thursday night.

Revolution Baptist church Friday night and Palm Street Christian church will give their treat next Tuesday.

CHRISTMAS BOUNTY

Salvation Army Feeds a Hundred Families.

People are coming more and more to understand and appreciate the true spirit of Christmas. Giving has been too much in the way of a commercial transaction, and this habit is still widely in vogue, but it is both refreshing and inspiring to see what unusual preparations are being made this season for dispensing Christmas cheer and comfort in behalf of the poor, the lonely and the homeless. Churches, charitable organizations, and individuals all over the country are making greater donations for this object than ever before, and Greensboro is, as always, among the most progressive of the cities in this most worthy movement.

Never in the history of the Salvation Army in this good town, have so many worthy cases of charity been provided for, nor so bountifully. Yesterday morning at the Army Hall Lieut. Miller addressed a large audience, many of whom with upturned and eager faces, showed evidence of want and anxiety. But not one went away without strength both spiritual and bodily, for the lieutenant's very helpful and cheering words were accompanied with baskets filled with varied and satisfying temporal gifts for every member of those families represented in the audience. There were dressed chickens, canned goods, potatoes, bread, candy, nuts, etc., and not merely enough for a meal, but a quantity in each basket sufficient to last a family of six until the morning after Christmas. Lieut. Miller says that 300 people will be fed this Christmas because of the combined efforts of the Salvation Army and the open hearts of the people of Greensboro. On behalf of the army, the good lieutenant wishes through these columns to express to the people of the city his sincere gratitude and thanks for their very bounteous support in this worthy and noble cause.

Judge George W. Ward To Preside—Special Term Ordered by Gov. Kitchin Yesterday At Request of Granville Commissioners—Three Pardons Granted by Governor Yesterday.

Raleigh, Dec. 24.—At the request of the Commissioners of Granville county Governor Kitchin today ordered a special term of Superior court in Oxford to try Nathan Montague, the negro who outraged, murdered and burned Miss Mattie Sanders and murdered her father, J. L. Sanders, and his little grand daughter, Irene Overton, burning all three bodies in the Sanders' residence, which he set on fire to hide his crime. The court is to convene January 16th, with Judge George W. Ward presiding.

Three pardons were issued today by Governor Kitchin. J. C. Harrington, serving six months in Harnett county jail for assault with deadly weapon is pardoned on petition of the prosecuting witnesses, county officers, all the lawyers of Lillington, the physicians and ministers of the gospel and many, if not all the business men of the place. The pardoned man cut the prosecuting witness while the latter was beating another man whom he had knocked down with a beer bottle. He has paid damages to the man cut, all lawyers fees and other costs amounting to $750, taking about all the property he had to do this the governor says.

George Brummel, Guilford county, gets a pardon from six of twelve months on the roads is pardoned on account of advanced age and previous good character. He was sentenced for selling whiskey.

Mary Barefoot (Snipes) is pardoned from six months sentence in Wayne county for selling whiskey. The governor states that the prisoner has married since her indictment and promises to leave the county if pardoned. She is pardoned on condition she remain law abiding, abstain from the use of intoxicants.

W. A. Graham Clark, son of Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the Supreme court, is here for the holidays and is being heartily congratulated on his promotion in the government service to membership on the Tariff Board of the United States to give special attention to the tariffs on textile products. He has traveled into many parts of the world for the government making special investigations bearing on textile matters and his reports have attracted very general attention, his promotion coming as a recognition of his very efficient services in the past.

Mrs. Virginia C. Pool, widow of the late S. C. Pool, for many years a prominent shoe merchant here, died today after a brief illness at an advanced age. She was the daughter of the late William C. Ppchurch and leaves a large circle of relatives. The funeral will be from the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. C. L. Harris tomorrow afternoon.

Was Popping Some.

Yesterday afternoon as a little negro was standing in front of West's place with his pockets full of fireworks someone either accidentally or intentionally touched a fuse with a lighted cigar. The negro raised a yell that could have been heard for ten squares as the explosives began to hiss anl pop, there being a regular fusilade. Fortunately none of the firecrackers were large enough to hurt and the negro, aside from getting his coat burned and losing his firecrackers, was none the worse off. His coat would have probably been burned off had an officer not made him pull it off and stamp out the fire.

It is a custom of long standing for subscribers to the daily papers every Christmas to "remember" the little fellows who served them with the paper during the previous year. The Telegram's carriers will be around as usual this year and when they hand you their little "Christmas carol" you will know what they mean and act accordingly. 2t

WAS SHOT DOWN IN COLD BLOOD

Revolution Man Murdered by Fireside.

Peace Loving People of Mill Village Shocked At Deliberate Crime Committed In Their Midst—The Murderer In Jail Awaiting Action by Grand Jury At February Term of Court—Preliminary Hearing Before Justice Collins.

The peace loving people of Revolution were greatly shocked yesterday morning when it was known that a horrible murder had been committed in their midst during the preceding night. Jesse Farrington, Cypress street, was shot down by his own fireside by Oliver Millis, who boarded at Farrington's home.

The shooting occurred Friday night about 9 o'clock, but the crime was not known generally until yesterday morning as the mill people believe in that old proverb: Early to bed and early to rise. Mr. Virgil Kirkman first phoned the officers yesterday morning about 7 o'clock, stating that in the excitement attendant upon the crime and his efforts in securing the services of a physician for the dead man he had forgotten to notify the officers directly after the shooting. Deputies Crutchfield and Weatherly were soon on the scene and about 9 o'clock met the murderer near the home where the crime had been committed. He was taken into custody and brought to the county jail.

Yesterday afternoon before Justice Collins the preliminary hearing was held, the defendant being held for the February term of criminal court without bail. Dr. A. F. Fortune, county physician, and Mrs. Farrington, widow of the deceased, who witnessed the shooting, were the only witnesses examined. Col. J. A. Barringer, who represented the defendant stated that he would not ask for bail, it being evident that it was a clear case of murder. Millis did not appear to care what was done with him.

From the best information obtainable the facts incident to the shooting are as follows: Millis had been boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Farrington for about a year and a half and it seems had been familiar with Mrs. Farrington. Farrington, who was drinking, threatened to clean out the house and was abusing his wife for her intimacy with Millis. Millis at this juncture entered from an adjoining room and without parley stepped behind Farrington and fired four shots at his victim as he was seated in front of the fire. Only two bullets took effect. One entered the back of the head, just behind the ear. The other struck just above and behind the left hip and ploughed its way through the body, coming out near the right loin. Mrs. Farrington was near the murderer as the shots were fired and, according to her little son, grasped the revolver at once. Two young boys, by the names of Foust and Pegram, were in the adjoining room and rushed in as Millis ceased firing. The murderer then walked deliberately into the yard and emptied his revolver of the shells, filling the chambers with fresh cartridges. He then went away and where he spent the night is not known. Farrington, it is stated, arose after being shot and fell forward on the hearth. He lived until about 1 o'clock yesterday morning.

The wife of the murdered man appeared wholly indifferent as to the affair and did not break down until she heard that Millis had been arrested. From all appearances she cared more for Millis than for her husband. On the stand she was calm and answered promptly all questions asked, the trend of the testimony being given in the above.

The dead man was about 35 years of age and is survived by his wife and three children. The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of Huntley-Stockton-Hill Company yesterday morning and as soon as it was decided that an inquest was unnecessary, the body was prepared for burial. The remains were taken last night to Kernersville for interment, accompanied by the widow and children. The burial will take place today.

Millis is about 26 years of age and is blind in his right eye. He is either half witted or he pretended to be out of his mind yesterday. When the officers arrested him he replied in answer to a question that he did not know whether he had his revolver or not. He did not know where he spent the night, he said. He declared that he knew nothing of the killing until told of it yesterday morning. He stated that he was on his way to the scene of the crime to end his life; that Farrington had died for him and he intended to die for Farrington. He carried his revolver loaded and had seven extra cartridges in his pocket when arrested. He declared that Farrington was his best friend and he had no cause for killing him.

It is probable that an effort will be made to show the man is insane when the case comes up for trial and unless this is done there is little doubt but that Millis will be sent to the electric chair.

The killing was the subject of conversation in the mill villages yesterday, but there was but little excitement over the affair. A large number of the people came up to hear the testimony introduced at the hearing before Justice Collins and all seemed satisfied at the result. Both the slain and the slayer were well known throughout the village and from all accounts were ordinarily peaceable men. Of course, the crime cast a shadow over the Christmas jollity of the village, for there is hardly a person in Revolution who does not regret the affair.

Telegrams and Cablegrams May be Sent by Telephone

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD
THE TELEPHONE AGAIN SUPPLEMENTS THE TELEGRAPH

At night, on Sundays, or on holidays, when your local Western Union office is closed, or if there is no Western Union office in your town, you may send a telegram or cablegram to any part of the world, even to ships at sea, by forwarding it by Long Distance Bell Telephone to the nearest "all night" telegraph office, and by paying the usual telephone toll charge.

To do this simply call "Telegram". The operator will connect you with "Long Distance" who will give you the telephone charge. If you are a Bell telephone subscriber the cost of both the telegraph and telephone messages may be charged to you, or to the addressee.

Telegrams addressed to you will be read to you over the Long Distance telephone by the Western Union company when your local telegraph office is closed, or if there is no Western Union office in your town, if you will pay the telephone toll from the nearest all night telegraph office.

This charge will be small since a number of additional "all night" telegraph offices have been opened to care for this service.

The telephone company, however, undertakes only to place the subscriber in communication with the telegraph office—it assumes no responsibility for errors in transmission.

TO TRANSMIT TELEGRAMS BY TELEPHONE SAY "TELEGRAM".

BUFFALO GRADED SCHOOL

North Carolina Day Celebrated on Friday—Christmas Tree.

Buffalo Graded school closed Friday for the holidays with appropriate exercises in the celebration of North Carolina day.

Before commencing the exercises of the afternoon, the principal, Mr. J. A. Turner, made a short address in which he outlined the program. He spoke of the origin and appropriateness of the law requiring one day in each year to be devoted to the discussion of some event connected with the history of the State. He spoke of the rapid progress made by the state and especially Guilford county along lines educational, agricultural and road building. He also spoke of Christmas celebrations the origin of some of the customs and decorations.

The North Carolina Day exercises were participated in by students from the 6th, 7th, 8th grades. These students acquitted themselves well, reflecting much credit on the school. A good sized audience consisting mainly of patrons of the school and neighbors seemed to enjoy the exercises immensely. The program closed with a beautifully decorated and well laden Christmas tree. Many pretty and useful gifts, besides nice packages of fruit and confections, were distributed to each one of the 115 pupils. The children were delighted and happy when they disbanded to resume their duties on January 2.

Wants To Help Some One.

For thirty years J. F. Boyer, of Fertile, Mo., needed help and couldn't find it. That's why he wants to help some one now. Suffering so long himself he feels for all distress from Backache, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, Lassitude and Kidney disorders. He shows that Electric Bitters work wonders for such troubles. "Five bottles," he writes, "wholly cured me and now I am well and hearty." It's also positively guaranteed for Liver Trouble, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders, Female Complaints and Malaria. Try them. 50c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Saved From Awful Death.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C. R. F. D. No. 8. "My sister had consumption," he writes, "she was very thin and pale, had no appetitie and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, till Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since. Its the best medicine I ever saw or heard of." For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhage-all bronchial troubles, it has no equal, 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL GREENSBORO

The Telegram extends the compliments of the season to all its readers and especially to the advertisers. We believe that we have given our advertisers value received, but this does not prevent us from feeling grateful to them for the generous patronage which they have been and are giving us. In a sense the advertisers co-operate with the management of a paper in making it a success. This brings a feeling of fellowship between the advertiser and the management which is one of the compensations of being in the newspaper business.

Copying The Telegram's comment on the decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals that a railroad could haul whiskey as baggage, the Statesville Landmark observes:

Inasmuch as The Telegram has overruled the Kentucky court, perhaps it will be good enough to inform a waiting world what constitutes baggage. Every passenger on a train is permitted to carry free a certain amount of personal belongings that is denominated baggage. Now what legally constitutes baggage? Who will say, and by what rule is it to be determined, what one may or may not carry as baggage? The Telegram says whiskey is not baggage. Of course certain things by their very nature are eliminated—live stock, for instance. But what is baggage proper? Will the Telegram please elucidate?

It will be a pleasure to enlighten our friend. We will ask to be permitted to go about it first by a process of elimination. It is not live stock, as the Landmark well says. It is not a brarel of apples, it is not a sack of flour, it is not a ton of coal, it is not a case of dry goods, it is not a bundle of plow castings, it is not a hogshead of molasses, it is not a crate of crockery; in short it is not any of the commodities handled by freight or express. Looking at the question from another point of view, baggage is what the railroad companies haul in their baggage cars and the Landmark will please advise us how many cases of whiskey or barrels of beer it has seen being transported as baggage. Taking the Landmark's own definition, "personal belongings," which is a very good one, it is manifest that it would not do to say that this means anything that belongs to a man or a woman. What it does mean is that which is commonly regarded as "personal belongings." If a case or barrel of liquor were as indispensable to the average person as a change of linen or a comb and brush, the barrel or the case, or both, would be "personal belongings" and therefore baggage. Whiskey isn't baggage any more than the sum of two and two is three or five.

Under the head "Does Smoking Impair the Physique?" the Danville Register says:

Dr. George L. Meylan, director of the gymnasium at Columbia University, New York, has upset ancient theories or at least sharply antagonized them by asserting that smoking is injurious to the mind, but not to the body. Mr. Meylan's tests as a result of which he enunciates this conclusion were made with 233 students, of whom 115 were habitual smokers. They established, he says that smokers make the better athletes, but that non-semokers stand higher in class work. Going into the realm of actual statistics, he asserts that 66 smokers gained an average of eight pounds in weight and 1.2 centimetres in height, as against a gain of six pounds in weight and 1.1 centimetres in height for the non-smokers. The non-smokers gained 20 per cent. in lung capacity as against 8 per cent. for the smokers, but the smokers surpassed the abstemious ones in total strength by increase of 103 units to 101 units for the non-smokers. Of the students who smoke 47 per cent. won places on the athletic teams, while of the non-smokers only 37 per cent. were successful.

While these statistics are interesting and tend to overthrow an old and generally maintained theory, they are hardly conclusive of the questions raised. Still when it is recalled that the results secured were not from individual or abnormal cases, but were averages of a large number of cases, the theory of Dr. Meylan is strengthened.

Nothing truer was ever said than that what is one man's meat is another man's poison. Smoking is, of course, meat for no one, but we are persuaded that it is poison for many. Those who can smoke and enjoy it, as many can, are apt to thrive better physically, we believe, than those who do not smoke. Dr. Meylan's experiments were with young men. Young men are sound and healthy and if any one can enjoy and benefit from moderate smoking it is the young man with his strong body, and his splendid equipment of nerves. Dr. Meylan's experiments applied to older men would probably tell a different tale. Men who are not strong and vigorous of body will find that tobacco impairs both the mind and the physique.

TULIP MADNESS.

The Craze That Raged In Holland In the Last Century.

During the tulip craze in Holland in the last century in one year the sales aggregated 10,000,000 florins. Holland went tulip mad. The bulbs were quoted on the Stock Exchange. Ownership in them was divided into shares. Speculators sold them short. At one time more tulips were sold than existed. At Lille a brewer sold his trade and good will in exchange for a bulb, which was thereafter known as the Brewery tulip. In Amsterdam a father gave one by way of dower with his child. Thereafter the variety was known as the Marriage of My Daughter. At Rotterdam a hungry sailor, happening on a few, mistook them for onions and ate them. The repast became as famous as Cleopatra's pearls and probably exceeded it in cost. At The Hague a poor fellow managed to raise a black tulip. The rumor of that vegetable marvel spread. Presently he was visited by a deputation from a syndicate. For that ewe lamb of his the deputation offered 1,000 florins, which he refused. He was offered 10,000 florins. Still he refused. Cascades of gold were poured before his resisting eyes. Finally, tormented and tempted, he succumbed. There and then the deputation trampled that tulip under their feet. Afterward it appeared that the syndicate had already grown a gem precisely similar and, unable to bear the idea that a rival existed, had authorized the deputation if needful to offer ten times the amount which it paid.

PICKED AN ODD NAME.

An Author's Long Search and a Subsequent Surprise.

When Albion W. Tourgee wrote "A Fool's Errand" he named one of his leading characters Theron Pardee. An early copy of the book fell into the hands of the Rev. Luther Pardee, an Episcopal clergyman of Chicago, whose father was named Thereon Pardee. The name is such an unusual combination that in amazement the rector showed the book to his father, and they were both puzzled by the coincidence. They decided to write Judge Tourgee and ask him what had led him to use the name. He replied, in equal amazement, that he had not supposed there was such a man living as a Theron Pardee. Then he stated that he had a prolonged search for a suitable name for the character of his story—one that would express just what he imagined this character to be. In the course of the hunt an old copy of the curriculum of Union college had fallen into his hands. It was dated 1825, or something as far back, and among the names of the students was one Thereon Pardee. The judge said it had impressed him as being one of the richest, most solid and most satisfying names he ever had heard, so he decided to adopt it for his character. The curriculum was so old that he had no hesitation in using the name, and he was astonished to learn that the rightful owner of it was living. His explanation was accepted and the resulting acquaintance was pleasing all around. —New York Press.

THE PROPOSED CHARTER

Chamber of Commerce Committee Outlines Purposes in Preface to Draft.

A large number of Greensboro people have secured copies and are studying the Commission form of government law as proposed. The Chamber of Commerce committee, which drew the charter in a preface brings out the salient features of the plan in brief form. Below are some of the features taken from the preface:

The proposed plan of government for the City of Greensboro divides the duties and responsibilities of the government of the city among three men; one of which is to have charge of the revenue, accounting and purchasing departments of the city, and is to be known as a "Commissioner of Accounts and Finances." He will also be the mayor of the city.

Another of the Commissioners will be known as the "Commissioner of Public Works," and will have charge and control the departments of the city which the name of the department indicates, such as streets, water works, etc.

The other Commissioner is to be known as the "Commissioner of Public Safety," and is to have charge of the departments which deal with the enforcement of the law, protection of property, and of the public health and the like, such as police, fire and sanitation.

The Charter proposes that each Commissioner shall be held to a personal responsibility to the voters for the efficiency of each department under his control, but subject, however, to the power of the three commissioners, as a body, to direct each commissioner with regard to any particular matter falling in his department. In this way each Commissioner must assume the responsibility that is imposed upon him by the charter in every particular, unless in a given case he can show that the Board of Commissioners in session have taken from him this responsibility in some particular matter, and have made a record on their minutes of their order in doing so.

The initiative and referendum enables the people to originate legislation and plans for city government, and also enables them to defeat any legislation or plans for city government that are proposed by the governing authorities.

The proposed Charter endeavors to make it not too difficult and not too easy to interfere with the plans of the governing authority, to the end that a commissioner will not be called to an account for slight or trivial shortcomings, but can be called to account if he demonstrates that he is inefficient, or unduly arbitrary and oppressive.

The power to recall is given under circumstances that make it somewhat difficult, but not impractical, to exercise it, with the view that no public official will be turned off from pique and without a fair hearing and a fair opportunity to vindicate himself against any charge that may be made against him, but at the same time will vest in the people the power to get rid of an official who demonstrates his lack of proper qualifications for office.

While every official must be voted for at two elections, one of these called a primary election, and the other a general election, and while these elections are non-political, that is, while no man runs in either of these contests with the party emblem to indicate which party he represents, yet this does not prevent a political party, outside of either of these elections, from nominating for office, and having such nominees to run as representatives of their party in the primary, and in the general election, if it desires to do so.

In the first election, called primary election, anyone may run, whether he be the nominee of a political party or not, who pays $5.00 toward the expense; and in the second election only the two candidates for each office receiving the largest number of votes in the first election will be voted for.

CHRISTMAS AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Institution Hopes to Have Many Visitors During Holidays—A Christmas Gift That Will Be Greatly Appreciated by the Children—New Books of Fiction.

The public library with its Christmas wreaths and cheerful open fire, with abundance of attractive current literature in its reading room, and with bright picture bulletins and plenty of Christmas books for the little people expects to welcome many visitors as usual during the holiday season. The library vacation is for one day only—Monday the 26th. On and after Tuesday the 27th it will be open as usual and books will be circulated from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

An exceedingly appropriate and greatly appreciated Christmas gift for the Children's room has just been received in a beautiful picture of Mount Vernon generously presented by Mrs. A. B. Andrews, North Carolina vice regent of the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association of the Union. This gift with the Stuart pictures already purchased for the library by the Guilford Daughters of the American Revolution will form a colonial group on the west wall of the Children's room with a lesson of patriotism in its silent teaching for old and young.

It will be remembered that the library owns another treasured Mount Vernon the gift of the Friday Afternoon Book Club in 1902. This is needed however for its own honored place in the adult reading room and Mrs. Andrews was appealed to for a Mount Vernon adapted to the space reserved for colonial pictures on the children's walls. Her response is a beautiful sepia photograph made to order for this call. She will be glad to think that our boys and girls to whom her gift was sent remember as they see it the noble lives of those who once called Mount Vernon home and she asks the children to make sure that in some good day they will visit the historic mansion for themselves.

The annual report of the Mount Vernon Association and a biographical sketch of Mrs. Ann Panela Cunningham of South Carolina, the distinguished founder of this organization were both given to the library by Mrs. Andrews in the past year.

Many Greensboro people have for forty years thought of Mount Vernon in connection with the late beloved Mrs. Letitia Walker. It is pleasant to have such tidings of the work from her successor. The library has been fortunate also just now in adding a volume of timely interest to its reference collection—Lossing's "Mount Vernon and its Associations"—an illustrated volume of much interest which was published in 1859.

Fiction reading in the library on Tuesday, Dec. 27: At Close Range, At the Mercy of Tiberius, Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush, Betrayal, A Story of Virginia; Bishop of Cottontown, Brewster's Millions, Chevalier De St. Denis, Circular Study, City of Delight, Colonel of the Red Huzzars, Doctor Bryson, Forest Lovers, Fortunes of Oliver Horn, Franks: Duellist, Infelice, Janice Meredith, Little Minister, Princess Dehra, Salthaven, Sherlock Holmes, Sky Pilot, Spotter, That First Affair, Tides of Barnegat, Uarda, Vashti, Vera the Medium, Wood Fire in No. 3.

LINCOLN'S DOUBLE RETIRES.

Capt. Dan Willard, Ancient Skipper, Will Sail No More.

Bangor Maine, Special in New York World.

Capt. Dan Williard, who has become known all over this section as the man who looks like Abraham Lincoln, has decided that he has had enough of a sailor's life and will stay ashore at his home in Willard.

Capt. Willard is believed to hold the record for continuous service as a master of vessels. He will be 77 years old next March and has spent 65 years of that time at sea, while for 60 years he has been a captain. In all that time he has had only one disaster. Twenty-three years ago, while in command of the 200-ton schooner Perseverance, he ran on Thatcher's Island and the craft was lost. Outside of that the aged skipper has not had an accident that would cost $10 to make good.

In his early days Capt. Willard was engaged in offshore sailing and made many voyages to the West Indies and South America. He has commanded many craft, his last being the schooner Nellie F. Sawyer, which is now in port of Bangor, commanded by Capt. W. F. Hinckley.

FUTILE GUESSING.

Impossible for Weather Science to Compete With Vagaries of the Elements.

Washington Post.

Cold waves have been sweeping farther South this winter than a year ago. This circumstance accounts for the unseasonable weather that has prevailed since early in November. Twice already the frost line has extended far down into Florida, an unusual happning for the early winter months. Last year real cold weather did not set in until the ground hog came out, February 3, and saw his shadow. But the ground hog, of course, supplants the fitful ice king only in popular fancy. In truth, blasts from the North are as uncontrollably freakish as bolts from the blue. A vivid flash of lightning overhead foretells the thunderbolt, but the observer is apt to go far astray in estimating the area within which the stroke would fall.

So, too, the weather man. Sighting a "low" in the Northwest a few days ago, the forecaster predicted a three-day period of "rain and warmer" for this latitude. About the same time a "high" was observed drifting eastward—the drift is always easterly—which indicated cold-wave conditions only as far south as northern New York. But the unexpected happened. One or more of the many counteracting influences which break up forecast pushed the crest of the cold wave as far south as Virginia, and blocked the warm "low" about the time it reached Washington. The mercury dropped from 49 to 17 in a day and on down to 8, or 12 below the minimum point officially predicted. Similar abnormal conditions are now prevailing a second time. The temperature has been lower East than west, comparatively speaking—colder in Washington than in Denver.

There is no rule governing the northward or southward swings of the great air currents. After many years of observation the results are insufficient for a forecasting basis that would be of the slightest value in predicting the kind of weather the elements have in store for us next winter. Even short-range forecasting is as uncertain as baseball. Just when the observer is dead sure of "winning the forecast," as they speculatively put it, the opposing forces make a rally at the bat, and it is all off.

Take Care!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

"What was the greatest mistake you ever made in your life?" asked the youthful seeker after knowledge. "It happened when I was a very young man, and consisted of thinking I couldn't make any," replied the old codger.

Banks On Sure Thing Now.

"I'll never be without Dr. King's New Life Pills again," writes A. Schingeck, 647 Elm St., Buffalo, N. Y. "They cured me of chronic constipation when all others failed." Unequaled for Biliousness, Jaundice, Indigestion, Headache, Chills, Malaria and Debility. 25c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Blobbs—"A man should never try to keep any secrets from his wife." Slobbs—"No, it isn't much use; some kind friend will tell her, anyhow."

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Howard Gardner.

SIX KILLED IN WRECK

Headon Collision on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 24.—In a head-on collision at Attica, O., early today between westbound passenger train No. 15 and eastbound express train No. 4 on the Pennsylvania Railroad six persons were killed and a half dozen others were injured, none, it is believed fatally.

The dead:

Christian C. Craig, Fort Wayne, engineer; Clarence C. Miller, engineer, Fort Wayne; Dewitt C. Beebee, baggaman, Fort Wayne; George H. Horton, baggageman, Fort Wayne; William A. Dowler, passenger, Chicago; —. — Friedstein, passenger, Chicago.

The injured:

William Slagle, engineer, Fort Wayne, scalded and injured about head, will recover.

C. H. Conley, Fort Wayne, injured by jumping, will recover.

A half dozen others were slightly injured but none seriously enough to be delayed.

The wreck, it is reported here, was caused by the engineers of the eastbound train disregarding the block signals. It is said they had run three blocks when the crash came.

Miller was a student engineer about to be promoted from the freight to the passenger service and was making a trip with Engineer Craig.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers.

Mrs. D. Gilkeson, 326 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

BALKS AT FIFTH OPERATION

Knifed Four Times for Appendicitis, Victim Rushes From Hospital.

New Rochelle, N. Y., Dec. 23.—Refusing to undergo a fifth operation for appendicitis, Michael Schuman, of No. 126 Madison street, New York city, leaped from the examination table today and dashed from the New Rochelle Hospital, declaring he was going home to die in peace. He bears scars of four operations for appendicitis and said they were enough for one life.

Schuman was taken with violent pains in the region of his appendix on a Stamford trolley car this morning and was taken to the hospital by the police. The case was diagnosed by Dr. Thomas C. Taylor, the police surgeon.

You Must Read This if You Want the Benefit.

J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "The pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections for relief. These attacks started with a pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing. My attention was attracted to Foley's Kidney Remedy and I am glad to say after using this wonderful medicine I am no longer bothered in any way by my old enemy lumbago.' Howard Gardner.

The disadvantage about building a castle in the air is that you can't mortgage it.

Dad push your boy on and help him to get the bicycle at the Greensboro Drug Co. by selling Mother's Joy. It is a great lesson to him.

No, Maude, dear; a literary hack isn't always a hansom man.

Foley's Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results, and restore the natural action of the kidneys and bladder. They correct irregularities. Howard Gardner.

HOW TO CURE RHEUMATISM
It Is An Internal Disease And Requires An Internal Remedy.

The cause of rheumatism and kindred diseases is an excess of uric acid in the blood. To cure this terrible disease this acid must be expelled and the system so regulated that no more acid will be formed in excessive quantities. Rheumatism is an internal disease and requires an internal remedy. RUBBING with oils and Liniments WILL NOT CURE, affords only temporary relief at best, causes you to delay the proper treatment, and allows the malady to get a firmer hold on you. Liniments may ease the pain, but they will no more cure Rheumatism than paint will change the fiber of rotten wood.

Science has at last discovered a perfect and complete cure, which is called Rheumacide. Tested in hundreds of cases, it has effected the most marvelous cures; we believe it will cure you. Rheumacide gets at the joints from the inside, sweeps the poisons out of the system, tones up the stomach, regulates the liver and kidneys and makes you well all over. Rheumacide strikes the root of the disease and removes its cause. This splendid remedy is sold by druggists and dealers generally at 50c. and $1 a bottle. In Tablet form at 25c. and 50c. a package. Write to Bobbitt Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md. Booklet free. Tablets sent by mail.

For sale by Howard Gardner, Druggist.

UNHAPPINESS DISPELLED.
Men and Women Unanimous About It.

Many women weep and wail and refuse to be comforted because their once magnificent tresses have become thin and faded. Many men incline to profanity because the flies bite through the thin thatch on their craniums. It will be good news to the miserable of both sexes, to learn that Newbro's Herpicide has been placed upon the market. This is the new scalp germicide and antiseptic that acts by destroying the germ or microbe that is the underlying cause of all hair destruction. Herpicide is a new preparation, made after a new formula on an entirely new principle. Anyone who has tried it will testify as to its worth. Try it yourself and be convinced. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.
